Auditor's Report.

We hereby certify that we have carefully examined the accounts of the Selectmen, Treasurer, Tax Collector and Library Trustees and find them correctly cast and vouched for, only the Library Trustees should be more particular in seeing to their duties in person and not trust to others to do their duties for them.

We have also examined the accounts of the Road Agents and find one agent holding proper vouchers to February 1, 1909, and one to February 15, 1909. The other has not produced anything for vouchers for the full year. The 10th of February should be the time for agents to settle with the selectmen, so the auditors can examine their accounts.

Milan Public Library is an institution which Milan people have been enjoying for some time, and the voters of Milan should have a clear idea of its present usefulness.

One-half of the books are at West Milan and one-half at Milan Corner, and once each year the books are exchanged so that all get the chance to read every book purchased.

The cost of maintainance has been a very little more the past year for several reasons, principally because it was necessary to devote several days to tracing lost books and quite a number were recovered. Some were not and probably never will be as there was no correct record of them in the library.

This carelessness cannot be laid at any particular door as it has been the fault of many and not one or two. For this reason the trustees at the beginning of the year 1908 deemed it expedient to enforce the library rules as printed on the first page of every library book.

At the beginning of the year there was quite a number of fines for books overdue, but as the year advanced borrowers were more careful and now nearly all the books are returned on time.

Any person finding a library book in their home will confer a favor on the town and trustees if they will return same to librarians and no fines will be required on books let out prior to April 1st, 1908.

At Milan village from 35 to 60 books are let out each week and the library rules have been enforced—no one person has been allowed two books on the same card and fines have been levied on everybody alike and no favoritism shown.

Those who have fines still due are barred from further use of the library till such fines are paid.

A few have been indignant at the enforcement of the rules but almost all realise that inasmuch as the library is the property of the town, they are helping themselves when they help to take care of town property.

A strict account of the books has been kept and any book let out since April 1st, 1908 can be located at once.

A large number of old magazines have been donated the library this year and have proven a great success as many, especially men, prefer magazines to books.

So much of a success has it been that the trustees decided to subscribe for a few papers and magazines and at present we have two magazines at Milan and three magazines can be found on the library shelves at West Milan.

These are let out for one week only to the same person instead of for three weeks as are the books.

The library is especially popular among the children and on this account 55 of the 126 books purchased this winter were for the children.

There is still sufficient money left from this year's appropriation to buy almost twenty more of the popular books which will be published this spring.

Out of town borrowers will be required to pay a small amount now for the use of the library.

If there are any books the townspeople would care to have in our library we wish they would pass in the titles and if reasonable we will get them, and it would be a great aid to the trustees when purchasing books if people would make out lists of desirable books they have heard or read of.

This report applies for the most part to the east side of the town as George Fogg, trustee for the west side, left town some time ago. But his work has been done by Miss Gertrude Fogg in a way that is satisfactory to us and we trust to the people of the west side as well.

Signed,

ROSE FISH,

Respectfully submitted,

DONNIE WHEELER,

School District Treasurer.

Auditors' Report.

We hereby certify that we have examined the above accounts of the Treasurer of the school district and find that she has most of the vouchers required. If one of the other members of the board had returned the vouchers in his possession to her, she would have had her accounts satisfactory to the auditors.

Milan, N. H., February 15, 1909.

Chairman's Report.

To the People of the School District of Milan:

Our schools for the year of 1908-9 have all closed, and in accordance with the custom of rendering a report, I take pleasure in submitting to you a brief account of the year's work, and of urging the parents to a greater interest than ever manifested in the past.

Taken as a whole the progress has been good. We have as far as possible retained the same teachers in our schools, as the success is always greater where teachers are not constantly changing. In some of our schools this has been impossible, and we have deeply regretted it.

Our prescribed course of study has proven as successful as we could reasonably expect, and with a few slight changes, we hope will still continue to be used.

It has been suggested by several that we add another year to our course, and in that year take studies prescribed in the first year's High school course.

I think this would be an excellent plan—it would enable us to keep our children at home one year longer and save the town from paying first year High school tuition. If this plan is carried into effect we should have to pay higher wages to teachers in our grammar schools, and in view of this I want to impress on your minds the necessity of raising a liberal amount of money for the maintenance of schools.

This year we have introduced a new series of readers, which were much needed as the condition of most of the old ones was very bad, and this, with such other supplies as we were obliged to purchase, so nearly used up our appropriation that no new supplementary reading has been bought, but we hope there will be money to use for that purpose another year. Now while they are young is the time to instill in our children a taste for good reading.

One thing that I wish to urge both parents and teachers to look to, is that the children be taught to carefully handle their books, not throwing them carelessly about, or defacing them in any manner whatever ; also in an economical use of all school supplies, and in a careful treatment of all school property.

This may seem a small matter at present, but it is forming a habit of carelessness and waste, that will seriously injure them in after life.

We have made quite extensive, but much needed repairs in the Hodgdon Hill school house, and minor repairs in most of the other school buildings, so that the allowance including the amount carried over from last year, has been overrun ; but all repairs were needed and there are still those that need doing.

In closing I wish to urge that the parents visit the schools often, and keep in touch with all the school methods.

The parents have more to do with the success of the schools than the teacher, for without the goodwill and hearty co-operation of the parents, the teacher can accomplish very little.

It also belongs to the parents to see that their children are not allowed to stay away from school, unless prevented by sickness or extremely bad weather.

I wish to thank the parents, citizens, teachers, the other members of the school board for their kindness and generous support during my term of office.

I am closing my three years' work, realizing that many could do much better than I have done, but with the consciousness that I have done the best I could.

I sincerely hope that our schools will grow much better, our school system be much improved, and everything tend to greater success each year.

DONNIE WHEELER,

Chairman School Board.
